It's all about this

Mlango NGO is a non-profit organization that provides daily school meals to approximately 4,800 schoolchildren in Malawi to give them opportunities for education and health.

Malawi is one of the poorest countries in the world. Many children do not go to school because they have to help their parents in the field to earn a living instead.

With school meals, this vicious circle can be broken. The children get a balanced diet and receive a basic education.

With a donation of 18 Euros only,
the school lunch for a child can be paid for a whole year!

work in Malawi

Our vision

To have a community where children get an adequate basic education and grow up well nourished so that they have a fair chance for a bright future.

Our Mission

We are committed to provide support to school communities that engage themselves in improving the schooling of their children, irrespective of gender, age, religion or social status.

Our objectives

To enable children to go to school without worrying about their livelihood. Rural schools to have adequate teachers. Working together in community to give their children a good education.

School feeding

The children get a balanced diet and receive a basic education.
